Cascade Regional Blood Services Honors School Nurses During Nurse's Week

Tacoma, WA—Cascade Regional Blood Services wishes to recognize and thank high school nurses in Pierce and South King counties, for their commitment to supporting a safe and consistent supply of blood to patients at local hospitals. Nurse's Week, May 5 – 10, 2008 commemorates the founding of the nursing profession as well as Florence Nightingale's birthday (May 12). She was considered the founder of modern nursing.

High school nurses work very hard with Cascade Regional Blood Services overseeing high school student donors at blood drives. High school students provide nearly 25% of the community's blood supply. The following is a list of high schools and their respective nursing staff:
